It is indeed my great privilege to get an invitation from Gastroenterology Foundation Munich for the observation training in Pathology Institute at Klinikum Bayreuth, Germany from June 22, 2014 to July 22, 2014.

The first day, 22 June, on arrival at Munich airport I was received by Professor Phillip. I was very much delighted to see Freising and I am thankful to him for my warm hospitality at his home on that day with his wife Monika. In the evening I enjoyed a gathering for dinner along with Dr. Dirk Hagena and his wife Sabine at Prof. Phillip's house.

Next day morning, after having breakfast, Prof. Phillip accompanied me at Munich train station for Bayreuth.

Prof. Michael Vieth, CO Pathology Institute at Klinikum Bayreuth received me at Bayreuth train station and took to his Department where I was introduced to all staff members. I was very much enthusiastic to see the department facilities described by Dr. Vieth. I started my work from the same day.

Concerning about the Klinikum Bayreuth, the regular daily activity starts with morning conference with discussion on various interesting and challenging cases – very considerate: in English language! Every Monday there used to be presentation by consultant on interesting topics. During my stay period I observed grossing technique of large number of surgical pathology specimens and examination of microscopy slides. This has definitely upgraded my technical skills and knowledge which will be a good asset to our institute at Dhulikhel Hospital. I found, all the Pathologists, Technicians and Secretary of the Pathology Institute at Klinikum Bayreuth were friendly, kind and cooperative.

Besides these routine works, I also observed and learned frozen section, autopsies, and newer techniques in Molecular Pathology such as Fluorescence in Situ Hybridization and PCR (real time closed system). If we could get chance to introduce such techniques in Dhulikhel Hospital Nepal, it will certainly improves our healthcare system.

I wish such kind of training will be continued in the future as a part of continuing medical education.

Apart from professional matters, I was also engaged by Dr. Vieth with his nice family in sightseeing in the weekends at various places such as Nürnberg city and Leipzig Zoo. It was really wonderful experience and I fully enjoyed my stay.

July 18 was my last day at Bayreuth. Prof. Michael Vieth assisted me to reach at train station Bayreuth. At Munich I felt very comfort when I saw Dr. Dirk Hagena train station for my warm reception.

Guest at Dr. Dirk's house July 18 to 21: July 18th evening, had a wonderful dinner with Munich

Gastroenterology Foundation Nepal Group (Prof. R. Riepl, and Dr.V. Stagge and his wife Slawa) at Dr. Dirk's house. It was great opportunity to meet and share thoughts with such members who are contributing a lot to Dhulikhel hospital. 19th July, another sunny, very exciting day: sightseeing to Zugspitze (top of Germany) at Garmisch with Dirk and Sabine. Cable car, beautiful panorama, train etc. It was wonderful breathtaking moment. 20th July, sightseeing with Dr. Dirk Hagena at Munich a gorgeous city, the heart of Bavaria.

21st July, day of my departure from Germany. Exited to go back home and join the regular duty in the Dhulikhel hospital. All together my stay in Bavaria was pleasing, comfortable with meaningful training. I would like to express my sincere thanks to Dr. Dirk Hagena, his wife Sabine, and Dr. Phillip, his wife Monika for marvelous support and hospitality.

Finally, I am extremely thankful to Dr. Michel Vieth and his team at Pathology Institute at Klinikum Bayreuth for providing me such an incredible platform to refine my pathology knowledge and skills; and Gastroenterology Foundation Nepal Group specially Dr. Dirk Hagena and Prof. J. Phillip for the perfect organization.
